Our Offerings

BeKo is a central contact point for elderly citizens in the municipality and district of Giessen.

We offer extensive information and advice to you and your family in structuring and coping with your day to day life.

Our advice is free of charge, confidential and independent of sponsors. We are happy to advise you by telephone, in writing or personally.

We support sellow citizens who don't speak German with a translater.

We conduct house calls if and when required.

Should you have questions regarding...

- domestic care and care in old age
- applications and legal claims according to the social security law
- cost of services
- living accomodations suitable for senior citizens
- pension plans
- support and relief for family members
- crisis situations
- other age-related issues

... please do not hesitate to contact us.

We look forward to helping you.

We offer detailed information about

- services and facilities for the elderly in and around Gießen
- possibilities of voluntary work

Our advice is based on your individual needs and wishes.

We support you in continuing to live in your own home for as long as possible.

If necessary we will assist you in securing the services of a translator.

BeKo works closely together with the care liason office located on our premises.
